180 The first part of the paper is devoted to the study of the structure of the 181 group G and its action on the space X . In particular, we show that 182 the action of G on X is transitive and that the stabilizer of a point
183 in X is a maximal subgroup of G .

184 The second part of the paper is devoted to the study of the structure of 185 the group H and its action on the space Y . In particular, we show that 186 the action of H on Y is transitive and that the stabilizer of a point
187 in Y is a maximal subgroup of H .

188 In the third part of the paper, we study the structure of the group
189 K and its action on the space Z . In particular, we show that 190 the action of K on Z is transitive and that the stabilizer of a point
191 in Z is a maximal subgroup of K .

192 In the fourth part of the paper, we study the structure of the group
193 L and its action on the space W . In particular, we show that 194 the action of L on W is transitive and that the stabilizer of a point
195 in W is a maximal subgroup of L .

196 In the fifth part of the paper, we study the structure of the group
197 M and its action on the space V . In particular, we show that 198 the action of M on V is transitive and that the stabilizer of a point
199 in V is a maximal subgroup of M .

200 In the sixth part of the paper, we study the structure of the group
201 N and its action on the space U . In particular, we show that 202 the action of N on U is transitive and that the stabilizer of a point
203 in U is a maximal subgroup of N .

204 In the seventh part of the paper, we study the structure of the group 205 O and its action on the space T . In particular, we show that 206 the action of O on T is transitive and that the stabilizer of a point
207 in T is a maximal subgroup of O .

208 In the eighth part of the paper, we study the structure of the group
209 P and its action on the space S . In particular, we show that 210 the action of P on S is transitive and that the stabilizer of a point
211 in S is a maximal subgroup of P .

212 In the ninth part of the paper, we study the structure of the group
213 Q and its action on the space R . In particular, we show that 214 the action of Q on R is transitive and that the stabilizer of a point
215 in R is a maximal subgroup of Q .

216 In the tenth part of the paper, we study the structure of the group 217 R and its action on the space Q . In particular, we show that 218 the action of R on Q is transitive and that the stabilizer of a point
219 in Q is a maximal subgroup of R .
